LOCAL MATTERS.

THE WEATHER To-DAY .- From our reperts this morning the probabilities are that the weather to-day will be cloudy, with rain.

CHURCH NOTES .- At St. Paul's church on Sunday Rev. Mr. Norwood officiated both morning and night. It is said that Mr. Norwood will probably be called to assist Dr. Minnigerode permanently.

At St. John's church Rev. Mr. Shields preached in the morning, and Rev. Edward Wall, assistant rector of St. James, at night. At St. James Mr. Peterkin read the service the morning and Mr. Wall preached.

The Moore Memorial chapel, which has been recently erected on Laurel street near Monroe Park, was opened for divine service for the first time on Sunday night. The services were highly interesting, and were conducted by Rev. Joshua Peterkin, D. D., pastor of St. James church, who preached a ermon appropriate to the occasion. There was a very large congregation in attendance. For the present, divine service will be held only on Sunday night at 81 o'clock. Arrange ments will hereafter be made for service ANTED, TO SELL, a hand-some DARK twice on Sunday-morning and night,

At the Monumental church on Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Wilmer, of Williamsburg, read the service, assisted by the pastor. Dr Woodbridge preached. In the afternoon the service of the church was read by the pastor. The music was unusually fine and peculiarly appropriate, in view of the close of the church year. Several of the selections rendered were the result of Mr. Wheat's composition, and were splendidly sung by the quartette choir, which on this occasion consisted of Messrs. Redford and Grant and Mrs. Reinbardt and Miss Redford. The opening piece-"From the Rising of the sun"-a contralto solo, was rendered by Miss Redford with great feeling and pathos. At the offertory Mr. Redford sang a beautiful tenor solo-"When I Survey the Wondrous Cross"-with a degree of spirit and sweetness which he has rarely, if ever, equalled. The closing hymn-"When I can Read my Title Clear"-soprano, alto, and tenor soli, with quartette finale, like the previous pieces, was grandly They were composed and arranged by Mr. Wheat especially for this occasion, and were doubtless as fally appreciated by each member of the congregation as though they were the productions of the great mas ers. Mr. Wheat, of course, presided at the organ with his wonted ability and ease. Mr. Wheat's engagement as organist at the Monunental church for the past year closed on Sunday, and it may be fairly said that on no occasion has he been found wanting in zeal in the discharge of his duties, or in his efforts to elevate the musical taste of our people It is to be hoped that this distinguished musician is so fully appreciated here that his services may long be retained in our midst. Methodist church on Su At Centenary day the pastor, Dr. Edwards, delivered a discourse on "Keeping the House of God in

FATAL ACCIDENT .- A fatal and in some respects a singular accident occurred a few miles west of Meechum's River derôt one night last week, resulting in the death of a dinance would render the lives of citizens brakeman attached to one of the through and property-holders on Broad street liable freight trains bound from Huntington to to great danger. He could not consent to Richmond. The unfortunate young man, whose name we could not learn, resided about three or four miles east of Meechum's River depôt, and was on the first of five he thought that no harm would result from through trains closely following each other. It is supposed that in passing from one car to another he fell between them and was instantly killed; at all events all five of the street, and saw no particular objection to re trains passed over his body and mangled it in the most terrible manner-indeed, so horribly mutilated was it that the largest portion found was one of his feet and a portion of the ankle. The young man when not on the road lived at his mother's residence, about five or six miles east of the point where the accident occurred and very near the railroad. It appears that when he fell his coat, one of the pockets of which held his pocket-book, aught on one of the wheels and was coiled around and around and carried to a point where the path from his home crossed the greatly pleased with the instrument, and railroad track. Here the pocket-book dropped or was shot out of the coat pocket into mittee on Health, will make a favorable rethe path. SPECIAL MEETING OF THE METHODIST SUN- | POLITICAL DISCUSSION .- Last night there | To he sum that you get your goods at the lower A meeting of the Board of Aldermen was beld in the Council chamber yesterday afternoon—President John A. Meredith in the dist church Sunday afternoon last at 4 to previous arrangement, Judge Ould introchair.

This meeting was held for the purpose of exciting a greater interest in the cause in this section of the city, and was a very pleasant and profitable one. The president opened the meeting by congratulating the school on the fact that the past year had been one of prosperity. The superintendent of Oregon school, Mr. Charles Hagan, gave a very interesting account of its condition and prospects of the school, referring especially to the increased interest manifested in the school, as well as the increase of scholars. He referred to the pleasant monthly meetings held by the school, at which the exercises were very interesting. Several of the scholars of the school then recited some pretty pieces in a very creditable manner.

Rev. D. P. Wills then addressed the meeting. Subject: "What thy hands find to do, do it with all thy might." He applied this principle to the Sunday-school work, and spoke of the great importance of the work. Mr. Asa Snyder also addressed the meeting in some practical remarks, urging those who were interested in the Sunday-school to heed the Gospel-call and arise and follow the Saviour.

This school and church have the good for tune to be under the efficient management of a fine corps of workers, who are ably and earnestly assisted by Rev. L. A. Guy, the pastor in charge. The singing was done by the scholars of Oregon Hill school, led by Mr. J. is, the chorister, and was in every way very credit-

DRATH OF MAJOR WILLIAM G. FERGUSON. Major William G. Ferguson, a native of Goochland, but for many years engaged in mercantile pursuits in Richmond, died about two o'clock Sunday morning, in the fortyseventh year of his age. He entered the served throughout the war, rendering important service in the Army Clothing Bureau. After the evacuation he started a wholesale dry-goods house, under the name and style of W. G. Ferguson & Co., but not meeting with the success he expected he closed his business and became chief salesman for M. Milhiser. His funeral took place from St. Paul's church Sunday, and was attended by a large number of the friends and

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN OF HENRICO .- Mr. Henry Ward Randolph, a well-known citizen of Henrico county, died at his residence, Mount Prospect, on Sunday the 26th instant, in the sixtyfourth year of his age. Mr. Randolph was born at Varina, in Henrico county, and has been long and most favorably known by a very large circle of friends. He was a brother of Mr. J. W. Randolph, of this city. He was buried yesterday from his late residence, a number of friends and relatives following the remains to their last resting-place.

DRIVES FROM THE CITY-THE RICHMOND HENRICO TURNPIKE .-- The stay-at-home denizens of the city, and their name is legion, By Mr. Wagner: A resolution providing can derive much gratification from the fact obtain pleasure and recreation early in the Kelly. morning and later in the day. On the south pits. In Varina township, the old Osborne turnpike, with its branches, including the New Market road, which leads by the historic ground of Malvern Hill, and the Wilthe filling in of Bloody Run gulley so as to liamsburg pike, with its branch to the renowned place of Darbytown. In Fairfield township, the Craighton and Nine-mile road, as also the Mechanicsville turnpike (probawhich will take the traveller in an hour's drive to fields which only a few years since were red with the blood of contending armics. West of the city we have the old Westham turnpike, passing through Sidney, and the Short-pump road running out as a continuation of Broad street, and passing by the handsome buildings of Richmond College and the extensive grounds of the Agricultural Society. In Brookland township, north of the city, there runs the old and wellknown Brook turnpike, and a new candidate for public favor in the Richmond and Henrico turnpike. This new road, leaving the city by way of either Second or Seventeenth treet, is admirably located for an afternoon's drive, giving one going out of the city the advantage of having the sun at his back. It is well graded, and having on its borders a large quantity of gravel, it has been excellently ballasted, and is so smooth as scarcely to give a vehicle a perceptible jolt. The country through which it passes one of the most picture-que around the city, and a number of springs along its borders furnish an abundance of cool, clear water for "man and beast." Notably in the list is the spring just by the poor-house hill. Formerly on the northern side of the road, the waters have been carried under the road-bed, and now rise in a large pool on the other, from which the waste water is taken some distance away and utilized in a brewery The present terminus of this road is at the spot where the first gun was fired which in augurated the bloody seven days' fight around Richmond. The advantages and beauty of this road must be seen to be appreciated. The tolls are merely nominal, and are all to be used in the improvement of the road.

THE PYTHIAN EXCURSION TO-MORROW .-The arrangements for the excursion to be given to-morrow by Virginia Lodge, No. 2, Knights of Pythias, have been completed and the affair promises to be very pleasant. The party propose to visit Shirley, a beautiful place on James river, and will leave Richmond from the Old Dominion Steamshir Company's wharf at 71 A. M., returning to the city at 8 P. M. A thorough and efficient police force has been provided, as well as all sorts of amusements, together with accommodations for dancing, a band of good music, etc., etc. The previous trip down the river by this lodge proved delightful, and their second excursion will no doubt be attended with equal success and pleasure.

PERSONAL .- Mr. H. D. Whitcomb left yes terday for New York to attend a meeting of the commissioners appointed to examine the mouth of the Mississippi river. Rev. Messrs. Vanderslice, Cheatham, and Bledsoe are still absent from the city. Mr. H. V. Redfield, of the Cincinnati Commercial, is in the city.

Business Enterprise.-Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock one of the city officials received a telegram from Mr. W. E. Hinton, Jr., of Petersburg, asking the loan by the city of a number of six-inch pipes. He telegraphed in reply the inability of the city to comply, but suggested that an enterprising firm of this city could fill the bill. By 4 in the afternoon the sale was made and the pipe on the train ready for shipment.

STRIKE OF BRICK YARD HANDS,-In consequence of a reduction of wages by the proprietors of nearly all the brick-yards in Richmond and Manchester, there has been a strike of hands, which has caused suspension of work in all but one or two yards. Wheelers were reduced from $1.50 to $1.25 tardy; Sterling Phelps, charged with making of bricks on hand is quite large, and will no FREE LECTURE.-William Hind Smith

Colonel Guy spoke about forty-five minutes, the limit allowed each; referred to the unsought position he now occupies before the people, and presented a scathing though necessarily hasty review of the political record of his opponent. Governor Walker skillfully defended himself, and was loudly cheered by the audience, most of which seemed from the first to be in sympathy with him.

Colonel Guy followed in a fifteen minutes' speech, and Governor Walker closed the debate in ten minutes. Each speaker made some caustic thrusts at his adversary that were received with enthusisstic applause and added an interest unusual to meetings of this character. The people quietly dispersed to their homes after the friends of the candidates had cheered their respective favorites.

THE COMMISSIONERS AND CLERKS OF ELECrion will assemble this evening at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce as soon as hey have completed their count of votes at beir several voting precincts, and will turn over their books, papers, and ballots to the secretary of the City Committee.
